

Song 41

- 1. I walked one day along a country road,
And there a stranger journeyed too;
And hid behind the garments of a thief,
I saw He was someone I knew.

'Come, leave this world and follow Me!'
I hear the Blessed Bridegroom call;
How could I make a lesser sacrifice?
Since He, has given, His all.

- 2. 'Oh, I would go with you, dear God,' I cried,
And Lo! a white cloud did appear;
He came with flames of fire in His eyes;
I heard Him whisper, 'Do not fear.'
- 3. I saw His path had been a lonely one;
He'd travelled like a rolling stone.
I knew that God had come to take His bride,
And I no longer felt alone.
- 4. I'm waiting now until the hour comes,
For glorified we soon will be;
And I will sing the praises of His name,

And thank Him for His love for me.
